PWEI SIGNS FIRST GEA-1 REPA WITH TRANSCO

Yuchengco-led PetroWind Energy Inc. (PWEI) signed a Renewable Energy Payment Agreement (REPA) with the National Transmission Corporation (TransCo) on September 22, 2026, for the payment of the Green Energy Auction (GEA) tariff of its 13.56 MW Nabas Wind Power Project Phase 2 (Nabas 2) in Aklan. The project secured its green energy tariff under the Green Energy Auction Program Round 1 (GEA-1) held in 2022.

This milestone follows the issuance of the Provisional Authority to Operate (PAO) by the Energy Regulatory Commission (ERC) in May 2026 and the issuance of the Certificate of Endorsement-Green Energy Tariff (COE-GET) by the Department of Energy (DOE) in July 2026.

Ceremonial Signing of the REPA for Nabas 2

“The REPA is the final document allowing us to receive the guaranteed GEA tariff for Nabas 2 of P5.7555/kWh for 20 years ensuring stable revenue for our project. We thank TransCo President & CEO Atty. Joseph Omar Castillo and his team for this REPA milestone,” said Francisco G. Delfin, Jr., PWEI’s Executive Vice President for Operations. “Nabas-2 is only the first of the three new power projects that we commit to increase power supply and reliability in the Visayas. These include the 20MW/40MWh Panitan Battery Energy Storage System which we aim to put to commercial operation by end of 2026 and the 90MWdc Panitan Solar Power Project which we target to connect to the Visayas grid by mid-2028.” Delfin added.

TransCo President Joseph Omar Castillo remarked, “Today marks a significant milestone, the signing of the first wind and the first ever REPA for GEA-1. Our congratulations to PetroWind and to all your stakeholders and supporters, for all your efforts and commitment to reach this milestone. As we implement TransCo’s mandate as the administrator of the FIT-All and GEA projects, we look forward to a fruitful partnership and the successful implementation of this agreement moving forward.”
